Enroll for Fall 2018:
RK-12: FOSTERING A CULTURE OF POSITIVE RELATIONSHIPS AND KINDNESS IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Attend two of the professional learning opportunities to earn one credit through a Vertically Integrated Project (VIP) course.

Classroom Management 101
Location: Boise State University
Date: Friday, November 9, 2018
Times: 8:30 am to 4:00 pm

Participants will work to create a classroom management plan, or revise their current one, to include the following evidence-based practices:
- Building Rapport and Relationships
- Creating and Teaching Consistent and Effective Expectations
- Acknowledging Positive Behavior and Providing Effective Feedback
- Implementing Consistent and Predictable Consequences

Participants will also receive several free examples and additional resources.

Bullying Prevention 101
Location: Boise State University
Date: Thursday, November 8, 2018
Times: 8:30 am to 4:00 pm

Participants will:
- Define what bullying IS and what it IS NOT
- Define effective vs. ineffective models for bullying prevention
- Discuss the requirements of House Bill 246 and create an Action Plan to fulfill those requirements
- Receive free resources, including age appropriate student lesson plans, student and staff surveys, implementation tools, and many more!

Relationship Building with Difficult Students
Location: Boise State University
Date: Friday, November 2, 2018
Times: 8:30 am to 4:00 pm

Participants will:
- Investigate the importance of relationships through stories, some science, examples, and reflection
- Explore evidence-based practices for building relationships with challenging students.
- Be given some specific strategies to experiment with, and leave with an action plan that you can take back to your building and put into practice right away.

Here is how to join the team:
For more information and to request a permission number contact:
Dr. Katie Bubak-Azevedo at katiebubak@boisestate.edu
To register: search by Subject: Vertically Integrated Projects.
https://cid.boisestate.edu/vip/rk12/